PREFACE

TO THE 1989 TEXAS WING ANNUAL HISTORY

The official history of the Texas Wing, Civil Air Patrol for the calander year 1989 records the activities of the wing and the accomplishments of the members in their contributions toward achievement of the mationwide Civil Air Patrol mission.

The wing headquarters supervises, guides and instructs the field units toward mission accomplishment, as well as establishing a ecooperative attitude between all the wing members. All members from wing headquarters, through the groups, squadrons and flights are unpaid civilian volunteers. As such, each can join or leave whenever the individual chooses. The outstanding accomplishments of the wing staff and all members is that they all work together without the legislative of official power of military orders. In the true spirit of the minutemen of old, the work together for the common good.

This is the second "in-depth", annual history of the Texas Wing. In addition to the historical facts covering the year 1989, this history will also present an in-depth look at Civil Air Patrol participation in the 1947 Texas City Disaster, which came to the attention of the wing historian during this past year.

I would like to thank the following people who contributed their time and efforts to this annual wing history.

Lt. Col. Chuck Leath, former Director of Senior Programs
Lt. Col. Palmer B. Scully, Director of Personnel
Lt. Col. Bill Yeates, Customs Coordinator
Major Jerry Leath, CAP-MAP Coordinator
Major Kirby Perry, Director of Emergency Services
Captain Dennis Snedegar, Wing Logistics Officer

PREFACE CONT'D.

Without the contributions of these few individuals, this wing history would not have been possible.

CHAPTER ONENARRATIVE

This history of the Texas Wing, Civil Air Patrol covers the time period of 1 January 1989 through 31 December 1989.

During 1989, Texas Wing was commanded by Col. Thomas L. Todd until 1 October at which time command was transferred to Lt. Col. George H. Parker. Headquarters continued to remain at Bergstrom Air Force Base in Austin, Texas.

MEMBERSHIP: As of 31 December 1989, there were 1,668 senior members in Texas Wing, which is a loss of 251 over 1988. There were 1,102 Cadets in the wing as of 31 December 1989, which is a loss of 389 over 1988.

As of 4 December 1989, Texas Wing was organized into 14 Groups, 66 Squadrons and no flights.

During 1989, there were 1,367 personnel actions processed by the personnel section at wing headquarters. Two senior members were terminated with cause and there were no demotions.<sub>1</sub>

LOGISTICS: During 1989, Texas Wing sold four vehicles but did not acquire any vehicles. The wing now operates 17 vehicles of all types. The year started with the wing in possession of 417 non-expendable items worth a total of $281,345 and ended the year with 402 items worth $237,342. Most of the equipment disposed of was obsolete radio gear. Field units recorded 124 disposals, 109 receipts and 32 transfers from one unit to another.

In 1989 the Logistics section got an excellent rating when inspected which was an improvement over the last two years in which only a marginal rating was attained.

Logistics seminars were conducted at a CLC that was held in Houston and again at the Texas Wing conference.

The largest problem faced by the Wing Logistics section during the year was the lack of proper paperwork from the units in the field. The wing Logistics Officer indicated that most Group Supply Officers were not processing paperwork correctly.<sub>2</sub>

CUSTOMS ACTIVITIES: Pages 2 and 3 of this narrative were written as a letter by Lt. Col. William P. Yeates. It covers the subject so well, that it was decided to use it verbatim as part of the narrative instead of as a supporting document.

Footnotes:

1. Correspondance from Lt. Col. Scully, Major Leath and wing rosters.
2. Interview with Capt. Dennis Snedegar, Wing Logistics Officer

SUBJECT: 1989 Tx Wg Customs Activities

TO: Historian, Tx Wg

The Customs support program in Texas began in October 1988 with the COASTWATCH program. Three Cessna 182 RG's were purchased with funds provided by US Customs and are based at Beaumont, Victoria, and Brownsville. These aircraft fly up to 25 miles offshore and report the identity and course of all marine vessels spotted.

The second phase, the LANDMARK program, began in February 1989. The primary purpose of LANDMARK is to search the entire state of Texas and report all undocumented landing strips. Search areas are the standard 15 minute SAR grids. There are 19 aircraft in 17 locations participating in this program.

ORGANIZATION

The CAP Customs program is headed by a Senior Customs Mission Coordinator with 14 area coordinators around the wing. The area coordinators are generally at the group level, but there are some who coordinate two groups and some who coordinate a single squadron. Each area is given a block of grids to search. A schedule of crew availability for each area is provided monthly to the Senior Coordinator who assigns a mission number to each flight and send the compiled schedule to the US Customs Blue Fire Operations Center in Houston. Each crew then contacts Blue Fire before and after the flight and sends a written report to Customs of all sightings.

PERSONNEL AND TRAINING

A Customs training seminar was conducted in Houston on 1 April 1989 for 93 Texas Wing personnel. The total qualified is now 331.

PROBLEMS

The biggest operational problem is of course the weather. Customs missions can only be flown in VFR conditions. Approximately 1/3 of the scheduled flights are cancelled for weather.

Another problem is the distribution of aircraft and qualified crews. By the end of 1989, as most of the grids had been covered, some crews became idle while others had to fly more than 200 miles to the nearest unsearched grid. The biggest unsearched areas at year's end were the northeastern panhandle, the Big Bend area, and south Texas. Organizational problems also occurred during the year. At the start, crews were given the freedom to fly a cancelled mission at the first opportunity of weather and crew availability. However, this resulted in a record-keeping nightmare. Neither the Senior Coordinator nor Customs knew who was flying and when, and the mission numbers became hopelessly scrambled. Customs suspended all flights from May through August to re-evaluate the program and resolve some organizational problems within the agency itself. When flights resumed in September, the Senior Mission Coordinator was moved to Houston in order to be directly available to Customs. In addition, local control of mission rescheduling was removed, and the responsibility of all rescheduling given to the Senior Coordinator. Operational problems mostly concerned the lack of knowledge of CAP operations by other US government agencies. For example, several marine flights were intercepted by the US Coast Guard before Customs began providing other agencies with the CAP schedule.

RESULTS

From October 1988 through December 1989, there were a total of 169 marine missions with 3135 marine vessels identified. LANDMARK missions from February through December 1989 totaled 891 covering 3/4 of the grids in Texas. 1276 undocumented landing strips were located. Flying hours totaled 2962. An estimated 7500 man hours were involved. Cost of the program included $49,414 for fuel and oil and $58,928 for maintenance. While there have been no seizures that I know of as a direct result of CAP participation, there have been numerous investigative cases opened with the intelligence provided by our flights.

The following figures reflect the training activities that have been reported to me for the calendar year 1989. You will notice that we are down in all categories from 1988. I will give what I think are the reasons in the remarks at the close of the statistical numbers.

1. Level 1 Completions: 258

2. Certificates of Proficiency--59

3. Grover Loening Awards--26

4. Paul Garber Award--13

5. Gill Rob Wilson Awards--5

6. Squadron Leadership Schools:

Collin Co. Community College--10-11 February--36
Students--15 Staff and Faculty

Jersey Village Composite Squadron--20-21 May--31
Students--22 Staff and Faculty

Dalhart Composite Squadron--7 Students--5 Staff and Faculty

7. Corporate Learning Courses:

Collin County Community College--10-11 February--14
Students--15 Faculty and Staff

Jersey Village Composite Squadron--21-22 October--30
Students--16 Faculty and Staff

8. Attended Southwest Region Staff College, Kirtland AFB, NM
14

10. Attended Nation Staff College, Montgomery AFB, AL 4

9. Observations:

a. For any one of several reasons Texas Wing Senior membership is down by nearly 200, thus weakening the strong showing of 1988.
b. Many of our members had participate in SLS ad CLC in 1988 and the courses were not needed as urgently as in prior years.
c. Increased mission activity on the part of most of our squadrons put a time and financial drain on members that we did not experience earlier.

d. Southwest Region Staff College had a goal of 87 attendees of which Texas was to furnish 37. The percentage figures are O.K. but I doubt if that many members will consistently be able to attend a summer staff college. It is my opinion that every other year or so the school should be held in late fall or early winter to accommodate those who were unable to attend in the summer.

e. It is my hope that in the near future, each group will have its own complement of approved instructors for Level I, Squadron Leadership School, Corporate Learning Course, Radiological Monitoring, Advanced First Aid, and Observer/Scanner techniques. I foresee the necessity of this format in instruction to complement the work being done in Standards/Evaluation in updating and upgrading the pilot standards. We need to be just as diligent in promoting observer standards and as we now are in pilot standards.

Lee, I know you didn't ask for all this, but sometimes I get on my soap box and don't know when to quit. I hope there is valuable information here for you.

Good luck in your recording our history!

To: Ltc. Lee Ragan, Historian, TX WG

The Civil Air Patrol Management Analysis Program is a tool designed to measure our effectiveness in all three parts of our program and to up-date our mission readiness. There are 21 Commander's Special Emphasis Items (CSEI) to report on for the year 1989. Each wing's performance is compared or ranked according to the other fifty-one wings in the nation.

CSEI 1. Each wing's goal was to increase both its senior and cadet membership by 10%. Texas lost a total of 251 senior members and 389 cadets.

CSEI 2. Texas' goal was for 329 cadets to attend 1st time encampments. We had only 118.

CSEI 3. We had a goal of 68 Mitchell, 21 Earhart, and 3 Spaatz Awards. We had 64 Mitchells, 14 Earharts, and 4 Spaatzs.

CSEI 4. Our goal of 816 second and third flight orientations was very high, and we gave only 143 flight orientations for the whole state.

CSEI 5. Level I Senior Training was 100% of the total membership less sustaining membership. There were 258 Level I completions for the year, but we only reached 84% of our total membership.

CSEI 6. Our goal for the staff colleges were: three for National and 37 for Region. We sent 4 to National but only 14 to Region Staff College.

CSEI 7. In corporate aircraft utilization, Texas Wing earned 55 points out of a possible 150.

CSEI 8. We had a goal of 89 pilots to attend flight clinics. We reported a total of 94.

CSEI 9. We had all four parts of our Communications goal earned early in the year for a total of 200 points (100% for the second year in a row).

CSEI 10. We earned 150 of a possible 150 points in ground safety for having no incidents and no accidents.

CSEI 11. In flight safety our one accident brought us down to 143.6 out of a the possible 150 points.

CSEI 12. Wing goal was for 89 pilot proficiency awards, but we had only 31.

CSEI 13. Aerospace Education for Seniors goal called for an attendance of 83. We had only 67.

CSEI 14. Texas Wing Plan of Action earned the full 100 points.

THE FOLLOWING CSEI'S EARNED MAXIMUM POINTS:

CSEI 15. Aerospace Staffing-150

CSEI 16. Brewer Award Nominations-100

CSEI 17. Chaplain's Reports-200

CSEI 18. Logistics Reports-200

CSEI 19. Public Affairs-100

CSEI 20. Financial Affairs-200

CSEI 21. Historical Report-50

Texas Wing, with a grand total 2,427 points, finished fourth in Southwest Region behind Arizona, Louisiana, and Oklahoma. Texas finished 24th in the nation.

Dear Col. Ragan:

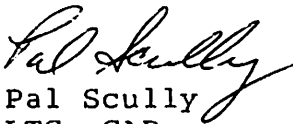

There were 1,367 wing personnel actions of all types during 1989. Two Senior Members had documentation for termination for cause. Not any request for demotions was listed.

A lack of proper documentation is a major personnel problem. Missing training information on the SMTLR and the action request forms have caused promotion denial. A lack of supporting documentation has caused denial for special promotions, mission related skills promotions, and for some awards.

As you are aware, promotions are based on training level completed and time in grade. We have had promotion requests submitted along with training level approval requests. As the training information did not have time to be logged prior to the processing of the promotion request, the promotion was denied. The promotion requested had to be completed by submission of another promotion action request form.

By holding seminars, such as the one held at the 89, wing conference, and returning the incomplete forms to the originating unit, we hope to substantially reduce time completion delays.

SUBJECT: MISSIONS REPORT '89

TO: LTC. G.H. PARKER, CC TX WING
LTC. LEE RAGAN, HISTORIAN

Attached is a summary of the SAR missions assigned to Texas Wing in 1989. I hope you will find this helpful in analyzing our efforts in training for 1990.

Ltc. Orlan Scott served as DOS for the first three months of 1989, turning over the assignment to his assistant, Capt. Kirby W. Perry effective April 1, 1989. Scott has established a very efficient and smooth running ES program during his time of service to Texas Wing.

The first three Month of SAR activity was routine, with no serious missions and two false starts on overdue aircraft, one Red Cross mission in west Texas, and thirty-three ELT missions.

The biggest mission of the year hit Perry April 18, and ran for over one week before it was suspended. The Mission was a Bellanca, Super Viking overdue on a flight from Midland to San Antonio Burney Stage Airport with one person on board. The 847 personnel, 229 aircraft, 558 sorties and 1164 flying hours represents the effort made by Texas Wing. The aircraft was found in July, under a tree, 20 miles east of Junction, Texas, one half mile north of Interstate 10, in a grid searched eight times by aircraft and helicopters. NTSB investigators and FAA representatives confirmed that the site was undetectable from the air. The rancher who found the wreckage was checking for goats in a pasture when he rode his horse to within 30 yards of the site before he could see the debris. Many people made significant sacrifices and demonstrated exceptional dedication during the mission. MC's Bob Price, Jim Barbee, Ron Raney, Jim Gates, and Orlan Scott are to be commended for their exceptional service during this mission. One Air Operations officer "Blackie" Johnson, from Uvalde, Texas, argued about leaving his post when he suffered a heart attack. Capt. (Dr.) J.P. Cryder insisted that he go to the hospital where he remained for several weeks. He (Blackie) is doing fine now after successful bypass surgery.

May 5, an aircraft flown by Perry was chasing multiple ELT hits from San Antonio to Killeen, in IFR conditions, when he heard a signal south of Lake Travis, a lake northwest of Austin. As the signal was being tracked to a site 10 miles north of Burnet, Ltc. Orlan Scott was setting up a Mission in Waco for an overdue Cessna 172. Capt. Bill Kulpa, MC of the ELT mission agreed to combine the mission with Ltc. Scott's and turned over the direction of the aircraft and ground teams from Austin to Scott.

Capt. Allen Weaver, pilot of the Apollo Squadron C-172, reached the area of ELT signal below the clouds within minutes of Perry's C-210. Weaver stayed in orbit in the area until a ground team, led by Capt. Eric Lindberg from Phantom Squadron, Austin, contacted the signal. With a sheriff's deputy, the team reached the wreckage of the C-172 deep in brush some 4 hours later. Both pilot and passenger had died on impact.

Col. Ron Raney and Ltc. Scott led a missing person mission in Odessa, Texas beginning on October 2. After several days of assisting the local police, the mission was suspended. Two weeks later the elderly gentleman was found dead in a pasture. CAP had not searched in the areas during the mission.

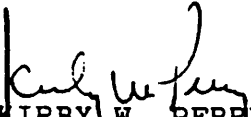

Capt. Bob Price set up a Mission Base on October 28, in Uvalde to search for a Cessna T182 RG. The aircraft, with two on board, had left Alice, Texas in route to Big Lake, Texas. After good research on the pilot and his time of departure, and with deteriorating weather in the Uvalde - Junction area, Price requested that Col. Raney set up a base in Odessa. The crash site, with two casualties, was located, just before dark on the evening of the first day, within 2 miles of the last NTAP position of the flight. The NTAP information was relayed to an aircraft in an adjacent grid ten minutes before the wreckage was located by that aircraft. The site was near Crane, Texas.

The 175 missions of 1989, consisted of 1 Red Cross, 1 Missing Person, 9 Overdue Aircraft (2 finds for 3 crashes), 3 Coast Guard Assists, 3 Courier Missions for 5th Army (2 flown), 7 Training Missions (2 Evaluations) and 151 ELT Missions (100 finds).

The SARDA evaluation in May was successful, receiving a satisfactory rating. However, the SAR evaluation in September was rated "Outstanding" by the evaluators. Maj. Fred Deyeso, MC, and Ltc. Larry Atwell, project officer, are to be commended for their outstanding effort in planning the mission. Due to their efforts, 175 members of CAP were deemed near perfect in their performance on that day in September.

It is my hope that this information will be helpful in compiling the 1989 history of Texas Wing.

1989 NATIONAL BOARD MEETING.....

For the first time since the early 1970's, the annual National Board Meeting of Civil Air Patrol was held in Texas. The dates were 11 and 12 August and the place was the Marriott Rivercenter Hotel in downtown San Antonio, Texas. Over 1,200 Civil Air Patrol members from all over the nation attended the conference.

Personnel from the Texas Wing staff, 19th Group and Southwest Region provided direct support to the Board Meeting.

Capt. Kathye L. Minden of the Texas Wing was awarded one of the two Public Affairs Officer of the Year Awards given at the National Board Meeting. Capt. Minden was unable to attend the conference and her award was accepted on her behalf by Col. Thomas L. Todd, Texas Wing Commander.

Capt. Steven A. Robinson, Texas Wing, was awarded the Silver Medal of Valor at the National Board Meeting for his actions to save lives during a flood on the Guadalupe River in July 1987. <sup>4</sup>

Texas members train with Air Force medics

SPRINGTOWN, Texas. — "Six people were killed and more than 210 injured when an Air Force C-130 cargo plane was shot down near Mineral Wells, Texas, by what authorities believe were terrorists."

Improbable as this scenario may seem, the Air Force always trains for the possibility an incident such as the one described occurs. Such training is in progress in Texas.

Recently, elements of Group 6, Texas Wing, with members of Detachment 1, 11th USAF Contingency Hospital and 301st Tactical Hospital, two Air Force Reserve units stationed at Carswell AFB, Texas, participated in a Continuing Medical Readiness Training exercise at Fort Wolters, Texas.

The idea for a joint exercise with Civil Air Patrol participating was conceived by Capt. Marc Ben-Meir, plans and programs officer for Group 6. According to Captain Ben-Meir, "If we are faced with a domestic aircraft crash of any kind, Civil Air Patrol must be trained and ready to act in locating these aircraft with our parent organization and do so as a team. The best way to do this is to train now."

To that end, 20 cadets and eight senior members from Decatur Composite Squadron, South Fort Worth Composite Squadron and Phoenix Composite Squadron, gathered at Fort Wolters U.S. Army Training Facility, Mineral Wells, Texas.

Civil Air Patrol participants were housed with their Air Force counterparts and even got to eat 'Meals Ready To Eat' with Air Force doctors, nurses, medical technicians and other support personnel.

Cadets, seniors and Air Force personnel attended classes in first aid, decontamination procedures, advanced first aid and field medical procedures including triage and how to relay information the Air Force way.

Classes were in-depth and taught with Air Force professionals in mind. Civil Air Patrol participants were treated as equals and were expected to take and pass all tests presented to Air Force attendees.

According to Col. Robert L. Campbell, commander, Detachment 1, "Civil Air Patrol will be called if something like the scenario mentioned does happen. They are the rescue professionals and training with them will ultimately help us all."

The exercise began when Civil Air Patrol was notified that an aircraft was reported down in their vicinity and that an Electronic Locator Transmitter signal, was being received.

Captain Ben-Meir dispatched a ground team to locate the crash, identify status of victims and react to the situation accordingly.

Approximately one-half hour later, Maj. Lloyd Delaney, communications officer, received a call from the ground team indicating the crash site had been located and that there were survivors.

These survivors, cadets and Air Force personnel, had been moulaged to simulate burns and other injuries. Cadets added realism by screaming, crying or just plain complaining about their injuries.

Air Force medical teams were dispatched to the site. They separated victims into priority categories based on the extent of their injuries. Victims were then transported to rear echelon facilities where care could be rendered.

Planning and preparations for this exercise took many months. Air Reserve Technician, MSgt. Dan Skopp, Detachment 1, worked many hours of overtime to make this exercise "one to remember." Sergeant Skopp's daughter Sabrina is a member of the South Fort Worth Composite Squadron. He is one of many dedicated parents whose input was invaluable to this exercise.

Exercise realism was not lost on cadets. According to Cadet Johnny Combs, South Fort Worth Composite Squadron, "The exercise was great. It seemed so real." Captain Ben-Meir, once an Army medic, stated, "The yelling of the victims and the superb moulage job reminded me of Vietnam. It was like the real thing."

James Horton, Phoenix Composite Squadron, cadet commander for the exercise, said, "Realistic training will help us be better prepared if anything like this should ever happen for real. Cadets will never forget this weekend and even if we never go on a search and rescue mission; at least we will be prepared and better able to adapt what we learned here to another situation."

Texas unit joins in POW ceremony

CIVIL AIR PATROL
NEWS. Sept. 1989

HEREFORD, Texas -- Hereford Composite Squadron cadets recently participated in an Italian Prisoner of War ceremony dedicating a former prison camp chapel in memory of POWs who died at the camp during World War II.

A little known fact about the war is that a Prisoner of War Camp for Italian prisoners was established and operated at Hereford, Texas, located near Amarillo.

After the war this camp was dismantled and returned to local farmers. All, that is, except for an old water tower, some barracks buildings and the camp chapel.

During past years the chapel had fallen into disrepair until a visit by Italian ex-POWs a couple of years ago. Since that time local citizens, some of them former Army guards at the camp, refurbished the chapel and built a fence around the site to protect it from vandals. The fence was made from original wire from the camp.

June 19, a large contingent of former Italian POWs and members of their families journeyed to Hereford to dedicate the monument site in memory of five of their comrades who died here during the war.

An emotion packed reunion was held between former POWs and their former guards.

An honor guard of Hereford Composite Squadron cadets were requested to present the colors of the United States and Italy during the ceremonies. Cadets forming the honor guard were JoAnn Robles, Benny Dominguez, Jerry Gallegos and Audy Sciumbato.

Lt. Col. David N. Clyde, Southwest Region legal officer, was project officer for the ceremony.

Hereford Composite Squadron cadets participation in this international ceremony of goodwill, according to Colonel Clyde, shows a continuation of their impressive commitment to their community and their patriotism.

Two Wyoming men killed in West Texas plane crash

From Wire Reports

CRANE, Texas — Two Wyoming men returning home from a business trip were killed Saturday when their small plane crashed in a remote area of West Texas, authorities said Sunday.

Civil Air Patrol search and rescue aircraft spotted the wreckage of the 1979 Cessna 182 about 6:30 p.m. Saturday in a pasture nine miles northeast of Crane. Crane is 30 miles south of Odessa.

The plane was the object of a day-long search involving 23 planes and 91 people after the pilot's family reported the craft overdue Friday night, the Civil Air Patrol reported.

It apparently overflowed its intended destination at Big Lake and crashed 60 miles west of there. It had left Alice, near Corpus Christi, about 12:30 p.m. Friday.

Officials identified the plane's occupants as pilot Phillip Milo Christopherson, 58, and Chester L. Atkins, 69, both of Casper, Wyo. They were pronounced dead at the scene.

Federal safety investigators were en route to the scene Sunday.

The Texas Department of Public Safety said Sunday that the cause of the crash was not known, although heavy thunderstorms were reported in the area Friday afternoon.

"The aircraft was flying from south to north and hit nose-first in the field," said Jerry Warren, a DPS communications officer.

The Civil Air Patrol said Mr. Christopherson's family told authorities that the men had departed Alice about 1 p.m. Friday.

The family said the men planned to stop in Big Lake and in Farmington, N.M., but never made it to Big Lake.

The pilot did not file a flight plan, but the Civil Air Patrol was able to track the plane's approximate route with the aid of air traffic control centers in Houston and Fort Worth.

Congressman visits Texas unit

BRAZORIA COUNTY, Texas -- While the nation's eyes were focused on the Ethiopian/U.S. combined search and rescue effort for Congressman Mickey Leland, (D-Texas), observers here had a unique opportunity to become aware of Civil Air Patrol Search and Rescue operations first-hand.

The occasion was a recent Search and Rescue exercise at Brazoria County Airport, attended by 82 senior members and 23 cadets. These participating Civil Air Patrol members were representatives from groups throughout Southeast Texas. They came in response to an invitation from the host unit, Fort Bend County Composite Squadron, a newly-formed unit headquartered at Southwest Houston Airport, Arcolo, Texas.

The Brazoria County Search and Rescue exercise was also the object of congressional interest. U.S. Congressman, Tom DeLay (R-Texas) visited here specifically for the practice operation.

While here he made a presentation to the Fort Bend Composite Squadron and its Commander, 1st Lt. Jim Priest. Congressman DeLay, a former Civil Air Patrol cadet, praised the squadron for its "valuable contributions to Fort Bend County," and generally lauded Civil Air Patrol for many "valuable contributions it has made to our nation" through emergency services, aerospace education and the cadet program.

Father saves son

ABILENE, Texas -- Second Lt. Kendall Docter, Abilene Composite Squadron, never took a cardiopulmonary resuscitation course in his life, but one afternoon recently, when it looked like his 3-year-old son had drowned, he gave it his best shot.

"He never took a class in CPR, he just did it from what he'd seen," said an Abilene firefighter after an ambulance had taken the child to a local hospital.

"He attempted CPR, and he did good," said the fireman.

Joshua Docter, age 3, was listed in stable condition in the pediatric unit of Humana Hospital-Abilene later that night.

Lieutenant Docter said he was playing with several children in a pool behind his house that afternoon, while his son Joshua played outside the pool.

Apparently Joshua began walking around the edge near the deep end, and fell in while the other swimmers were busy playing a hide-and-seek game.

Then one of the children noticed Joshua floating on his back.

"We were playing a game and the kids started yelling that Joshua was in the water," said Lieutenant Docter. "I didn't believe them at first; I just thought they were trying to get me to open my eyes."

Then one of the kids grabbed Docter's arm, and he opened his eyes.

"I looked over and sure enough he was lying in the water," Docter said, still shaken from the incident.

The lieutenant said he grabbed his young son and threw him out of the pool, jumped out and began CPR knowing only what he had seen on television.

"You just do what you have to do," he said. "It worked."

Soon the child began to cough and gasp for air. Lieutenant Docter continued CPR until emergency medical personnel arrived. By that time, young Joshua was crying.

Ironically, Docter is scheduled to take a CPR class as part of a mandatory training program.

Texas Wing hails new commander

CIVIL AIR PATROL NEWS. Jan. 1990

DALLAS, Texas -- Col. Thomas L. Todd, Odessa, Texas, passed command of Civil Air Patrol's Texas Wing to Lt. Col. G. Harold "Hal" Parker, of Houston, during Texas Wing's conference here recently.

Colonel Parker rejoined Civil Air Patrol in 1980 and served most recently as Texas Wing's vice commander. His previous service has included positions as Group 13 commander and Ellington Composite Squadron commander.

Colonel Parker originally joined Civil Air Patrol as a cadet in 1950 while living in Shreveport, La. He left Civil Air Patrol, joining the Air Force, to serve in Korea.

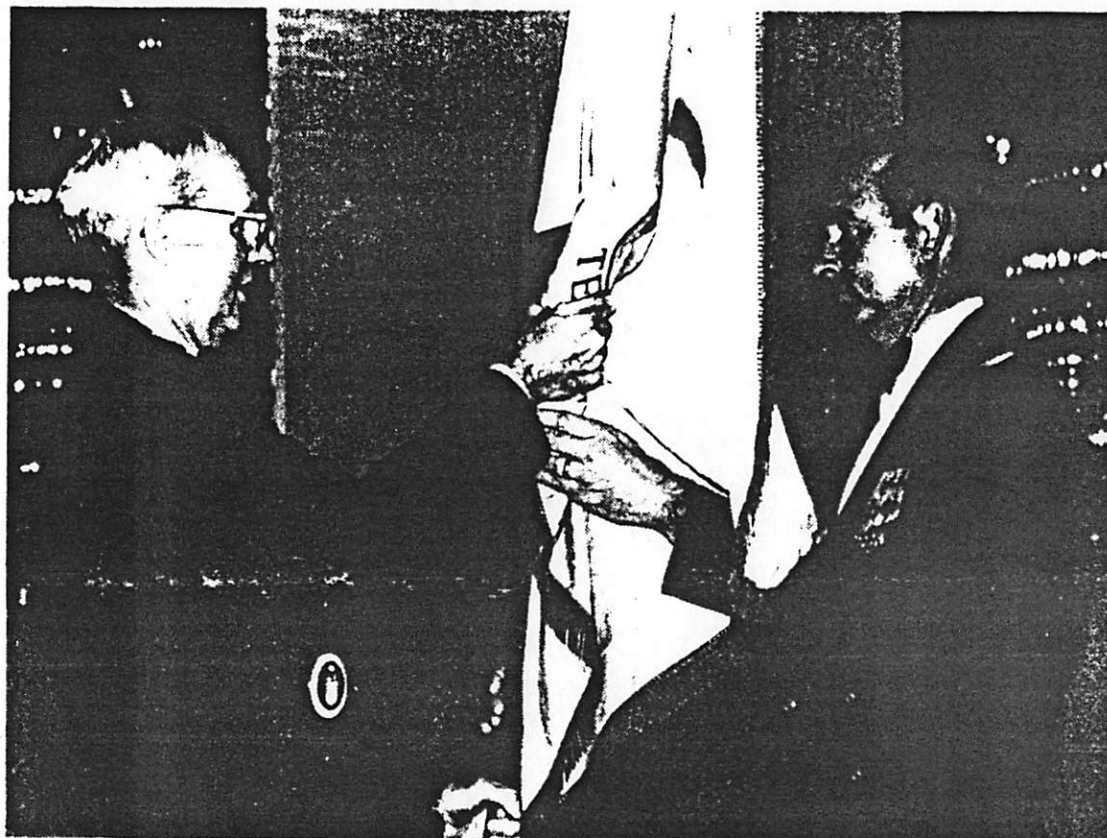

Graduating in 1957 from Stephen F. Austin State College, Texas, Colonel Parker began a career in aerospace, working for Chance Vought Aircraft and joining NASA in 1962 where one of his many responsibilities included training Apollo 11 crew members, Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin, to land the lunar module.

He is currently working at Lockheed Engineering and Sciences Company with the Extravehicular Activity Systems for the Space Station Freedom project.

The colonel is married to the former Joyce Land. They have three children; Barbara, Hal Junior, Douglass and two grandchildren; John Andrew and Laura.

Colonel Parker's major goals for Texas Wing are to maximize use of aircraft, vehicles and other resources, within the current budget, in order to continue programs started by former Texas Wing commanders. These programs include improving pilot programs, enhancing Civil Air Patrol's professional image and strengthening Civil Air Patrol relationships with Texas state agencies and governmental departments.

In addition Colonel Parker is initiating a new safety program called, "Zero in '90," with the goal of zero accidents through the entire year.

CHAPTER THREE

CIVIL AIR PATROL PARTICIPATION IN THE 1947 TEXAS CITY DISASTER

It is standard policy to include in the annual Texas Wing History, information that has come to light during the past year regarding historical events which have happened in the wing in times past. The article (and cover letter), which follows, was received during 1989 from Major William L. Kidney of the Ohio Wing. He passed this article on to the Wing Historian, and it is included in the 1989 wing history.

Altho this event happened 43 years ago, it is a part of the history of the Texas Wing and is presented here for the first time, to preserve the story in an official Civil Air Patrol unit history.

This was sent to Major Kidney by Ms. Francis V. Parker of Bay City, Texas. Her cover letter will set the stage for the report that follows.

This is a copy of the undated article which appeared in the Texas Wing Tips, the newsletter of the Texas Wing, Civil Air Patrol, in 1947. While I have made some corrections in the typographical errors and spellings in the original, and have added a few punctuation marks for greater clarity, the words are verbatim. Knowing the risks that these CAP members took by going into this area while explosions were still occurring, my admiration for them knows no limits.

Judging from the comments they made about calls from Col. Byrd and the reference to Sunset High School, it is my opinion that these people were from the unit in Dallas. Col. Byrd was a resident of Dallas, and in April of 1947, headquarters were moved to Heruley Field near Dallas.

By way of introductory material -- just to refresh your memory about the disaster -- I am also enclosing a copy of the article from The Texas State Historical Association's Handbook of Texas concerning the incident in Texas City. During the 10 years I worked with the TSHA, Eldon Branda (editor of this publication) and Kenneth B. Ragadale, who wrote Wings over the Border, also worked at the Association. I'm afraid Ken and I got very little work done -- we were always talking planes and flying!

The concussion of the Texas City blast was felt here in Bay City, however I was off in college at the time and missed it. I recall very clearly, though, that afternoon in my biology lab, a sorority sister of mine from Texas City was sitting across the table from me. There was a portable radio going that someone thought to bring -- and the instructor allowed us to listen as we worked. Fortunately, none of her family was hurt, but I will never forget the look on her face as she listened to the eyewitness news broadcasts -- a good thing, we didn't have TV in those days!

Being a retired professional historian, editor, and librarian, I do feel that this account of CAP activities during the Texas City disaster is fitting material for your archives. As I said before, I have never seen these accounts in print, other than in this newsletter.

I understand that several volunteer units -- some CAP, I'm sure -- attempted to fly relief materials into Texas City, but the thermal activity created by the giant fires and the threat of further explosions made it impossible to land and the airport was closed to all traffic. The Dallas people were fortunate to have been able to get in by air. They said that if the second or third ship exploded while planes were in the area, the concussion would have spun them in... or they would have disintegrated in mid-air. So it was decided to close the airport, so I was told (I have no substantiated proof of this statement, however.)

TEXAS CITY DISASTER. One of the worst disasters in Texas history occurred on April 16, 1947, when the ship S.S. Grandcamp exploded at 9:12 a.m. at the docks in Texas City. The French-owned vessel, carrying explosive ammonium nitrate, caught fire early in the morning, and while attempts were being made to extinguish the fire, the ship exploded. The entire dock was destroyed, along with the nearby Monsanto Chemical Company, other smaller companies, grain warehouses, and numerous oil and chemical storage tanks. Smaller explosions and fires were ignited by flying debris, not only along the industrial area, but throughout the city. Fragments of iron, parts of the ship's cargo, and dock equipment were hurled into businesses, houses, and public buildings. A fifteen-foot tidalwave, created by the force, swept the dock area. The concussion of the explosion, felt as far away as Port Arthur, damaged or destroyed at least 1,000 residences and buildings throughout Texas City. The ship S.S. High Flyer, in dock for repairs and also carrying ammonium nitrate, had been ignited by the first explosion; it was towed 100 feet from the docks before it exploded about sixteen hours later, at 1:10 a.m. on April 17. The first explosion had killed twenty-six Texas City firemen and destroyed all of the city's fire fighting equipment, including four fire trucks, leaving the city helpless in the wake of the second explosion. No central disaster organization had been created by the city, but most of the chemical and oil plants had disaster plans which were quickly activated. Although power and water were cut off, hundreds of local volunteers began fighting the fires and doing rescue work. Red Cross personnel and other volunteers from surrounding cities responded with assistance until almost 4,000 workers were operating; temporary hospitals, morgues, and shelters were set up.

Probably the exact number of people killed will never be known, although the ship's anchor monument records 576 persons known dead, 398 of whom were identified and 178 listed as missing. All records of personnel and payrolls of the Monsanto Company were destroyed, and many of the dock workers were itinerants, making identification difficult. Almost all persons in the dock area -- firemen, ships' crews, and spectators -- were killed, and most of the bodies were never recovered; sixty-three bodies were buried unidentified. The number of injured ranged in the thousands, and loss of property totaled about $57 million. Litigation over the Texas City disaster was finally settled in 1962, when the United States Supreme Court refused to review an appeals court ruling that the Republic of France, owner of the Grandcamp, could not be held liable for any claims resulting from the explosion.

TEXAS WING TIPS

"Reporting For Duty Sir"
G.N.

Smoke and Death reigned thru Texas City Wednesday the 16th as hundreds of men, women and children lost their lives in a series of blasts that rocked the city and surrounding territories.

A call was sent to Wing Headquarters for a limited number of volunteers to come and help in the disaster area.

Immediately on receipt of the news of the disaster Col. Byrd took his personal plane, a crew of embalmers and a flight of his ambulance planes to the area. When he arrived there, he started his planes taking out the injured and bringing in medical supplies. He also assisted in organizing a "Mercy Ferry Command."

Lt. Col. R.L. Bowen also pressed his Howard into service and made numerous trips to the stricken zone in the "M.F.C."

Lt. Tanco took the staff car and was accompanied by Major John Chesworth, Major Frank McClendon, Capt. Jack Blanchard, Lt. Arthur Stovall, and Cadet Sgt. Jerry Ottinger. They were joined later at the scene by Lt. R.J. Swanson, Acting C.O. of the Galveston Sqdn., Lt. T.W. Leonard of Sqdn #4 of Houston, and F/O Helen Wheeler, who served with the Red Cross.

They arrived in Texas City at 01:30 Thursday and went immediately to the disaster Headquarters and were ordered to report to the dock area. They set up Headquarters in the staff car in the zone of the initial explosion and operated a center for coordination of all activities including Fire-fighting, Rescue crews, Relief workers, and Stretcher crews. They handled identification of bodies recovered, and made arrangements for the notification of next of kin thru the Red Cross.

Major McClendon, Capt. Blanchard, and Cadet Sgt. Ottinger managed the Water Dept., and kept all the rescue crews and motor equipment supplied with fresh water. Major Chesworth directed the fire crews and guarded the danger areas while Lt. Tanco and Lt. Stovall lead crews thru the wreckage in search of dead and injured.

As fresh crews were rushed to the area, they returned to the staff car Headquarters and started Bulldozers to work clearing road for more fire-fighting equipment to be brought in and facilitate the removal of the dead.

EYE WITNESS STORIES FROM THE STAFF THAT WERE IN THE AREA

Major John Chesworth, Wing Personnel Officer:

Red, gold, and black, those were the colors of the disaster. The red of fire, reflected in a sulky sky, the gold of burning chemicals, and the blackened ruins of what were once long, sleek cars; graceful buildings, and the charred and devastated hulks of what were once human beings. For miles into the sky, billows of flame leaped and rolled, the billows shaped like roses. A new tank would burst and flare, and a new rose leaped into the sky.

"There has been other devastation, but none other so complete. I saw London blazing, and the dome of St. Paul's lighted in the flames; and I saw what our bombers did to the Reich. Here nothing stood, everything was flattened. Modern buildings of steel and stone reduced to their basic skeletons, other buildings swept away. Fifty mangled cars stood along the bare floor of what had been a modern three-story office building, only the vault door hanging crazily from one hinge showed what this building had been. A frame and stucco office building had collapsed; its mahogany furniture was flattened, the leather davenport pierced and twisted. The safe was blown open, and the papers were scattered.

It isn't the big things that you remember:

It was the desk drawer lying in the middle of the road, a pack of cigarettes, a gold pencil, and a bank statement tidily in it. It was telephones still on their stands in a ruined building where tiles had burst like sardine cans, and ceilings had fallen, trap-ping screaming girls beneath.

It was two small children happy in a blasted service station, their "daddy" in a hospital, and "We don't know where Mommy is" that caught your heart.

Most of all, it was that long patient line outside the morgue, that turned to await hopefully each screaming ambulance; and then subside again. They did not cry, they did not talk. In the hopelessness, dull patience of people who have been hurt beyond their endurance point, they stood and waited.

The Salvation Army was our Angel of Mercy. They wore rubber boots, rode bicycles, they wore the blue uniforms and poke bonnets and rode in station wagons. Their coffee was hot and good, and their sandwiches fresh. To us they were wonderful. Not to the disaster lines they came, but beyond. At 0200 Friday, before the last ship blew, police were clearing the area when the Salvation Army came.

"Get out of here! This place is going sky-high," I told them. "We can't, there are hungry men down that road, and we're going." They went, too; and the little station wagon scattered back to town, the earth rocked; we hit the ground.

It was our tired crew sleeping where they could, and when they could, in the back of our battered staff car, in the ditches and in trucks.

Major Frank S. McClendon, Wing Executive Officer: We came into Texas City through a series of road blocks, guarded by State police, and the breached and booted Houston police that had been rushed down there to guard the disaster area. At Houston we picked up a waiting squad car, and Lt. Tanco took out after it. We went down there plenty fast, getting over for on-coming ambulances, their red lights flashing and sirens weiling. I never saw so many ambulances.

At the town itself, it looks like some gremlins had had a holiday. No windows were left anywhere, door frames had been blown in, the doors still locked. In the poorer sections of town, down near the dock area, the houses were unroofed, blown off their foundations. Out among the big, better-built houses, windows were blown out, but apparently the houses were not damaged. The plate glass lay like snow on the sidewalks. The windows were full of merchandise, but nobody bothered. Lives and disaster were important then, not radios and silver.

Friday morning was the morning that things really got going. We went out on search parties for bodies, and we went through most of the ruined plant. We found plenty of them, and spotted floating bodies out in the bay. There had been a tidal wave, and things were pretty thick underfoot. Over all hung a penetrating odor, a bitter pungent odor, that permeated our clothes, and really seemed to go through us.

Captain Jack L. Blanchard, Records & Publications Officer:

My most vivid memory of Texas City will be the utter devastation that confronted us when we drove into the blasted area. Fires burning and explosions renting the air with their cry of death in the form of steel fragments. We all learned to hit the dirt without any prodding, and rank didn't mean a thing.

The Major and the rest of us carried stretchers, and drove the heavy Army trucks that were needed every place at once. We arrived in the dock area in time to assist with the recovery of the ones injured in the explosion of the HIGH FLYER (and don't let anyone tell you she didn't fly high!)

Major Chesworth and I went down into the area occupied by the Pan American Refinery. It was necessary to wear our gas masks due to the presence of chlorine gas. We followed several executives of that company on a tour of inspection, and they were completely awed by the destruction. Yes, ammonium nitrate is a common fertilizer, but it raised more than a stink at Texas City.

However, it isn't the big things that you remember at a scene of death and destruction like this. It's the patient widows, still hardly realizing their widowhood; and the little kids looking for their daddys and mothers. The people were all brave in the face of their losses, and tears were nowhere to be seen. They didn't have time to cry because they were still stunned and shocked by it all.

Being a mortician, I knew what our boys were going through over at the garage that had been designated as a morgue. I saw New London, and I knew, too, what an explosion could do to the human body. But this was even greater, since the area was much larger and the bodies numbered several hundred more. The embalmers worked long and hard, the ambulance men made hundreds of trips back and forth bringing in the dead and injured. The police and State Guard stood long hours of vigil, preventing looting, of which there wasn't much.

A word of praise should be extended the Salvation Army who worked, not back from the danger areas, but right down in the burning, choking smoke with the rescue workers. Their Lads and Lassies were a brave lot, and when the yell went up "HIT THE DIRT," they hit it with us. The girls were always smiling, asking us if we needed cigarettes, gum, or if we could use some more coffee. They were a swell bunch to have around, and, believe me, they deserve a lot more credit than they will get.

Our crew slept in ditches, in the back of the staff car, and mostly on the ground, when we got to sleep, which wasn't often.

In closing, I would like to take my hat off to our young Cadet Sergeant Jerry Ottinger who went to Texas City with us. He did his jobs well, and he wasn't any more scared than the rest of us; and don't let anybody tell you they weren't scared.

Lt. Felix Tanco, AC, AAF-CAP Liason Officer:

OPERATION TEXAS CITY is what we ought to call this. It started about noon Wednesday, and that telephone jumped off the wall all afternoon. We got started down there about 1900, and scatted for Texas City. You could see the burning town long before we got there; and when we hit Houston, the papers were on the streets giving some of the details. I checked the police station just as the second ship, the HIGH FLYER, blew; and got the Hell out for Texas City.

Texas City was really burning when we got down there. The police at the road block told us that some tanks were going to go any minute, and they didn't want to let us through, but we went anyhow. (Those tanks never did go, at least while we were around.) When we got into the town, you could really see the light of the fire. Big puffs of flame were bouncing up into the air, and every once in a while there would be another explosion.

We went out into the disaster area, and tried to help. There wasn't much we could do. The HIGH FLYER explosion had wrecked what was left after the explosion of the GRAND CAMP, and killed most of the rescue workers in the area. A huge American LaFrance Foamite fighter was plastered up against the side of an oil barge. The oil barge had been lifted out of the water by the first explosion, and set 200 feet inshore. Ambulances were stacked in heaps, as a child might stack his toys. Ruined cars were everywhere; a big Army mobile generator unit was in ruined hunks, and searchlights were smashed. A concrete grain elevator had holes blown in it from hunks of metal big enough to skid a Cadillac through. It was burning, and alongside it, boxcars and stock piles of telephone poles were burning. The tank farms were on fire, and the 7-story Monsanto plant was a solid sheet of fire. Twisted steel girders made weird shadows across the sky, and everywhere was flame, and the acrid odor of burning chemicals and scorched bodies.

Thursday morning bull-dozers came in, and started making roads through the wreckage. Crane trucks came, and started hauling out ruined cars and hunks of metal. I remember a police car with a hunk of metal bigger than a desk piled on it. The car windows were almost uniformly blown in, the bodies crushed. We found bodies all day Thursday, and about 1700 Thursday, we were run off the area, since the burning WILSON KEENE, the third ship in the bay, which had been broken in two by the second blast, was expected to go up. We stood guard duty most of the night.

Friday was the best day, as far as coordinated rescue work went. The Dallas police were on deck, and those big men in their white caps and shiny white cars sure looked good. They had their own disaster plan; they put it to work. We got the area cleaned pretty well, and the welders and the wreckers cut away twisted metal; the fire fighters from Houston began to get the smouldering warehouses under control. The oil tanks still burned; it was too hot to get near them.

Lt. Arthur C. Stovall, Publication Officer:

My most permanent memory of the disaster is Sergeant Ottinger landing on my back when the Major yowled, "HIT THE DITCH!" It wouldn't have been so bad, but he was wearing my combat boots.

Gas masks were issued to us from the supply depots set up at the City Hall; and we scrounged GI blankets. They were useful for many things: wrapped around our shoulders, they made excellent overcoats; they were used to slide under the charred and smouldering remnants of bodies; and they made excellent shields against falling debris.

The State Highway Patrol had the area closed off to keep out the curious, and you really had to have a reason to get in. Our little flivver, a yellow flag snapping on the side, got us almost everywhere. That car took a beating, but it was a gallant little buggy, and brought us home again.

The smoke was very thick, and the sulphur fumes from burning warehouses almost choked us to death. Everywhere you looked there was fire, or the smoking ruins of a building. The damage done was unbelievable. I saw what the Japs left of Manila, but this was worse. Huge warehouses were left crazy jackstraws of twisted girders, and the sheet iron roofs were gone.

Lt Tanco and I went into the wreckage of the Monsanto Chemical Plant in search of bodies; and we found them. They didn't much look like bodies, but a scorched wrist watch, a dog tag worn by the employees of the chemical company, or the workman's badge served. We found pieces, too.

Cadet Sergeant Jerry Ottinger, Time Section:

Wednesday evening late we left for Texas City. We were in Houston when the third explosion took place at 01:08 Thursday. We arrived in T. C. about 01:30, finding everything in a mess, we went right to work.

Death and devastation reigned everywhere. The smoke-filled air was hard on the lungs. The raging fires were leaping and billowing into the night sky. Huge clouds of black rolling smoke were going into the heavens. The popoff valves would let go and a geyser of fire would shoot up. You could read a newspaper by the light.

One particular command I remember -- "HIT THE DITCH, SERGEANT OTTINGER!!!!!!" I landed right in the middle of Lt. Stovall. A gas tank blew. Some of us left the ground for a second.

An ATOMIC BOMB expert that was at Sunset High School said, "The ammonium nitrate on the Grand Camp, which amounted to about 2000 tons, was about 1/10 as powerful as the ATOMIC BOMB....."

The blast had terrific power. It threw a barge, 150' long and 40' wide fifty yards from the water. It was loaded [with] sulphuric acid. The blast smashed cars like paper cups.

The first victim I saw was pinned under a set of railroad wheels. Everything was there, except from his chin up. Then there were charcoal hunks that represented human beings.

Our party was looking thru the chemical stills for human remains. One man picked up a pair of gloves and got one on; the other still had a man's finger in it. From the stills you could see "floaters" -- bodies that had been blown into the bay. Out to the West you could see the fractionating towers. Rescue workers on the fourth and fifth flights were calling for stretchers. They got four bodies from flight four and one from flight five. The bodies were unrecognizable pieces of black charcoal.

One company in Houston donated welding supplies to the blasted area. Everything was there. I rode with the driver of the truck in the area to show him how to get there. Everything was there that was needed for cutting purposes. I dished out six full sets of cutting torches and their accessories, with 100 ft. of hose to each torch. The welders were cutting down the huge beams that had been twisted and bent like a small piece of wire.

Every window on main street was broken. A garage was being used for a mortuary. The school gym was being used for a morgue. People were always standing in line to try and identify their loved ones.

This is the worst disaster that I have ever seen, or probably ever will see again, but if one should happen again, I will be willing to go and help.

1st. Sergeant Wayne Davis was also down at the disaster but the State Highway Patrol had blocked all roads at the time he arrived and he was not admitted, however he returned to Houston and assisted in speeding supplies to the city.

NOTES FROM THE WING COMMANDER

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank the members of the Texas Civil Air Patrol who volunteered their services during the Texas City Disaster, some of you actually took part and others stood by ready to help if needed. As you Commander it did my heart good to see and hear of the things that CAP personnel did at Texas City."

"Thanks to Major Barney Gibbs and Major Otis Barnett who flew Public Health Nurses to Galveston, Texas, on April 23 at the request of the American Red Cross. This shows that the Texas CAP can be called on in any emergency."

[Col. D. Harold Byrd, Commander, Texas Wing CAP]

WINTER 1989-90

Lt. Colonel Hal Parker (left) accepts command of Texas Wing from Colonel Bob Bess (right), Southwest Region Commander. "Sir I accept command of Texas Wing."

DATE: OCT, 1989 — TEXAS WING CHANGES COMMAND

Colonel Thomas L. Todd of Odessa passed command to Lieutenant Colonel G. Harold "Hal" Parker from Houston during the Texas Wing Conference held 1 October 1989 at the Dallas Marriott Quorum Hotel.

Lieutenant Colonel G. Harold "Hal" Parker joined CAP in 1980 and served most recently as Texas Wing Vice Commander. His previous service included Group 13 Commander, and Ellington Composite Squadron Commander.

Born on a farm in central Oklahoma in 1932, Colonel Parker joined CAP as a cadet in 1950 while living in Shreveport, Louisiana. Joining the United States Air Force, he left CAP to serve in Korea.

Graduating in 1957 from Stephen F. Austin State College in Texas, Lt. Colonel Parker began a career in aerospace working for Chance Vought Aircraft and joining NASA in 1962 where one of his many responsibilities included training the Apollo 11 crew (Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin) to land the lunar module. Currently he is working at Lockheed Engineering and Sciences Company with the Extravehicular Activity Systems for the Space Station Freedom project.

Lt. Colonel Parker is married to the former Joyce Land, they have three children; Barbara, Hal Jr., Douglass and two grandchildren; grandson John Andrew and granddaughter Laura.

His major goals for Texas Wing are to maximize the utilization of aircraft, vehicles and other resources within the current budget in order to continue the program started by former Texas Wing Commanders, improvement of the Pilot program, enhancement of the professional image of CAP and to strengthen CAP relationships with the Texas State Agencies and Departments.

In addition Lt. Colonel Parker is initiating a new Safety program "Zero in 90," with the goal of zero accidents through 1990. ✈

GREETINGS FROM ... YOUR NEW COMMANDER

I accepted this position with a mixture of emotions. Anticipation for the exciting events in store for all of us in the future and a deep sense of responsibility that accompanies the command of the third largest Wing in the nation. These emotions are still at an all time high; as a matter of fact, they may never dissipate.

In June, at the Uvalde Practice SAR, we had an unexpected visit by a group of senior Air Force officers from the Inspector General's Office. These officers didn't know anything about the Civil Air Patrol; they were making field visits to find out how CAP used the equipment and funds provided by the Air Force. All day they questioned different people about why they joined CAP and why they invested so much of their time and money in CAP. During the exit briefing with me, they stated that they had no idea that there was a group of people anywhere who were willing to go to the extent we do, as dedicated to others as we are. They were very, very impressed with all they saw and learned and were convinced that CAP was made up of a very unique group of people.

A most unique group of people ...

The mighty Roman empire of ancient times ... a most unique group of people. They set out to conquer the world and did. They had the mightiest army the world had ever known, they were a very dedicated people. In those days, the highest honor that could be bestowed upon a non-Roman was to make a Roman citizen. They were proud to be called a citizen of Rome ... a most unique group of people.

About two thousand years ago, there was a small band of people who were called Christians ... a most unusual group of people. At that time, the world was based upon the philosophy that the strong ruled the weak and an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth until this small group of Christians came along. They had a new, unheard of teaching of "love your neighbor" and "turn the other cheek" and "walk the extra mile". A most unique group of people.

Explorers ... a most unique group of people. They leave the safety and comfort of home to "see what's on the other side"; to advance our knowledge. Columbus, William and Clark, Adm. Perry, Neil Armstrong ... a most unique group of people.

Our Civil Air Patrol members ... a most unique group of people. Most are employed full time but make time to be on call twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. We pay a fee so that we can be members; in fact, we spend a great deal of money buying uniforms and equipment and paying our own expenses to training courses and missions. We attend training courses and seminars on our own time at night and on weekends — often away from home, which means added expenses. We attend practice SARs and SAR Evaluations on our own time so that when the real mission happens we will be expert at our jobs. When there is a need, someone in trouble, missing aircraft, lost child, hurricane or flood ... we respond to that need. We take time off from our jobs; many use all our vacation time this way ... we spend our nights and weekends responding to that need ... that others may live.

The world doesn't understand us ... even many of our Air Force brothers marvel at the dedication and self sacrifice we show.

I was honored to accept command of the Texas Wing of the Civil Air Patrol ... a most unique group of people.

Hal Parker

STILL CARING FOR THE WING

September 30, 1989 completed another phase of my life. Since February 1986 it has been my privilege to be Commander of Texas Wing. We have made great progress together. We have grown, practiced our craft, become more efficient, saved lives, trained senior and cadet members. I attribute our success together to the attitude of the members of the Wing. The can do attitude in times that have been economically devastating for this state has truly shown what it is to be a "Texan". We have had solid, if slow, growth in both cadet and senior membership. We have won the Southwest Region Competition and the Cadet Competition two times out of the last three years. We have ten Spaatz Award Cadets in the last 3 1/2 years. Texas Wing has only had 27 in the history of the Wing. I feel that a large part of the success of this is due to the Texas Wing LO and LNCO. LTC Bruce Ehly and MSgt Marty Martinez have spent many hours in an automobile (especially Marty, who does not like to fly) going into the field to give the exams to our cadets. As far as I know, this is a first in the Wing also. Their advice and assistance have been extremely valuable in managing the affairs of Texas Wing. They have always been there for us. They have also been extremely helpful at Wing headquarters with our personnel. Our Director of Administration, Dora Arroyo, completely turned Wing headquarters around both in appearance and in efficiency of operation. Frank Garza has done an excellent job working for Dora at Wing. The attitude of the staff is outstanding. When one department needs a little extra help, people from other departments never fail to pitch in and help out until the overload is handled. Chuck and Jerry Leath have been totally selfless in their work and attitude for Texas Wing. Whatever they have been asked to do they have cheerfully taken on the task and always completed the task in an outstanding manner. Carolyn Broyles has turned our Cadet Program into a totally functional operating unit. Due to changes because of transfers and illness, we had no continuity in the program until Carolyn took over as director. Our Logistics Department is now in super shape. CPT Dennis Snedeger has also totally turned this department around. We have not heard the term "freeze" in quite some time. Larry Atwell took over the Finance Director's position on short notice and has continued the outstanding work of Myrle Scott. This was a critical need as this has to run smoothly to keep our people reimbursed for missions and to keep our other bills paid in a timely manner. There are so many, in fact all, staff members who have performed in such an exemplary way. You have shown yourselves to be true professionals in CAP.

We were privileged to have the National Commander, Vice Commander and the Immediate Past Vice Commander at our Wing Conference. The National Chief of Staff was also there. To me, this was a great privilege. We were able to pay tribute to B/GEN Ed Bailey for his leadership in Civil Air Patrol and his special friendship to our 1989 Type A cadets and staff. Little did we know that Gen. Bailey would pass away less than a week later. He will be missed by all of us in the Civil Air Patrol.

LTC Hal Parker has assumed command of the Texas Wing. The Wing is indeed fortunate to have Col. Parker as Wing Commander. I have had the privilege of working closely with him for the last six months and know for sure that the Wing is in good hands. His honesty and integrity are above reproach and he cares for the Wing as I do. I know the progress and membership will continue to train, improve, save lives and grow both personally and professionally because of your Civil Air Patrol experience.

God Bless!

There was much speculation as to what happened — a certificate of disorientation, engine trouble, lack of fuel? It was suspected it appeared as though the plane nosed into a small hill at a 50-degree angle. It was mentioned, and it was possibly carried over or tipped over coming to rest in the stand of oak and cedar. It was also suggested that the plane exploded on impact.

The National Transportation Safety Board and Federal Aviation Administration inspectors were investigating for several days. It will be months before a final report will be issued.

Pilots who flew the search mission and especially the grid area in which the plane was finally located were keenly interested and investigated the crash site. Margaret Cossy and Capt. Mountain Smith, local AF mission pilots, said they were comforted to learn that their didn't err in their search for the downed aircraft when they knew the location of the crash. It was almost undiscoverable from the sky. Cossy said that it was with mixed emotions the searches welcomed the opinion that the pilot apparently was killed.

A top Air Force Mission coordinator after investigating the crash site summed up by remarking, "My faith is proof in the process. We did everything right, but it got the last part was wrong."

"Commanding air, news and administration had wanted to be respected," mission would find if not one more thing would have made the difference. Now they know.

On June 23-25, 1989, the 16th Group and the Big Bend Composite Squadron hosted a mountain SAR exercise at Alpine-Casparis Municipal Airport. Colonel Susan Sturgeon was mission coordinator, and Major George Vose was project officer.

Approximately forty planes arrived in Alpine from all over Texas. The effectiveness of Texas Wing personnel in the planning and execution of a mountain SAR exercise was evaluated. Aircrews received excellent training and improved their proficiency in safe mountain flying techniques, enroute navigation, and visual terrain search.

Fourteen grids were flown, and the weather was relatively cool and clear except for a few clouds in the late afternoon. ➤

ELT LOCATES TEXAS UNITS

The 7th Group of the Texas Wing found that you can take nothing for granted on an ELT search that was conducted 12 September from the Group Headquarters at Tyler, Texas. Nine members of the Group staff and Tyler Composite Squadron were involved in the unusual search which was closed after silencing the non-distress signal at 05:22 CDT after approximately six hours of search.

Lt. John de Noyelles, Mission Coordinator and Deputy Commander of the 7th Group, assembled two pilots and ground teams at midnight to search for the ELT. SAR-SAT coordinates indicated that the transmission was originating just south of the Tyler city limits, about 4 miles from the city airport. Due to weather, only ground teams could be used, but a weak signal was detected by hand-held DF's at the mission base.

The ground teams, under the leadership of Lt. Col. J.R. Brown, Commander of the Tyler Composite Squadron were dispatched for a ground search accompanied by county sheriff's deputies. After some 3 hours of electronic search, Col. Brown believed they had isolated the weak signal to a heavily wooded area adjacent to the airport.

Meanwhile, a local hospital offered to assist with their EMS helicopter which was equipped with a searchlight. The copter began searching the suspected area and reported a very strong signal from the air. After an unsuccessful search, the chopper started back to its base.

At mission base, the Communications Officer, Lt. Dennis Bennett, confirmed that the signal was now very strong, as did Col Brown with the ground teams. Lt. Bennett also noted a brief voice transmission on the emergency frequency.

Lt. de Noyelles, also a pilot, said, "I monitored the ELT signal from base, and sure enough, a few minutes later the signal was interrupted by what we thought was a transmission from the chopper, since it used their N-number. When they did not respond to our acknowledgement, we were puzzled. Then I recalled a recent magazine article about the latest generation of ELT's that contain a microchip that periodically transmits the aircraft's N-number and time since activation in a synthesized voice. Could it be that our target was actually on the chopper that we had called on for assistance?"

One ground team was sent to the hospital and quickly confirmed our suspicion. The pilot reported that he had tested his ELT earlier, but the switch apparently did not remain in the correct position and reactivated the unit without their knowledge.

"In affect, the target found us on this mission," said de Noyelles. "We also learned never to take anything for granted and how important it is for CAP to have members that stay well-informed on all aspects of aviation." ➤

CADETS PARTICIPATE IN ITALIAN POW CEREMONY

Hereford, Texas — Cadets from the Hereford Composite Squadron participated in the Italian Prisoner of War ceremony 19 June 1989 dedicating the camp chapel to the memory of POWs that died at the camp during World War II.

A little-known fact of World War II is that an Italian Prisoner of War Camp was established and operated at Hereford, Texas. Located in the Texas Panhandle near Amarillo, the camp housed Italian POWs during the war and was run by U.S. Army personnel.

After the war the camp was dismantled and returned to the use of local farmers to raise grain crops. All except for an old water tower, some barracks buildings, and the camp chapel.

Over the years the chapel had fallen into disrepair until a visit by Italian ex-POWs a couple of years ago. Since that time local citizens (some of them former Army guards at the Camp) refurbished the chapel and built a barbed wire fence around the site to protect it from vandals. The fence was made from the original wire from the camp.

A large contingent of Italian POWs and members of their families returned to Hereford to dedicate the monument site to the memory of five of their comrades-in-arms who had died here during the war.

A tearful and heart-stirring reunion was had by the former POWs with their former guards. A feeling of comradeship between these warriors seemed to be the order of the day.

An honor guard of Hereford Composite Squadron cadets were requested to present the colors of the United States and Italy during the ceremonies. Those cadets forming the honor guard were Cadet JoAnn Robles, Cadet Project Officer, Cadet Benny Dominguez, Cadet Jerry Gallegos, and Cadet Audy Sciumbato. Lieutenant Colonel David N. Clyde, Southwest Region Legal Officer, was the Project Officer.

The Hereford Composite Squadron cadets participation in this international ceremony of goodwill was a continuation of their previous impressive performance at parades and presentations of colors in which they have participated since the squadron was formed.

The cadet's performance is an impressive testament to the community of their patriotism and community spirit. ➤

1. This fiscal year for Civil Air Patrol is 1 July 1988 through 30 June 1989. An End-of-Year Consolidated Finance Report is due at Texas Wing Headquarters no later than 1 August 1989.
2. I am required to have a response from every Group and Squadron in Texas Wing. The report is CAPF 173-1. The Consolidated Report is put on the last two sheets of this form. The only page that you are to send to Texas Wing is the last page of this form. Do not send the entire report. This report is to be kept with the records of your unit.
3. Please double check the addition and subtraction on these reports. Many reports last year were incorrect. Do not send a copy of the last page of this report as some of the copies last year were barely readable. Send an original of the report.
4. If your unit has had no monies in this fiscal year, you still must file a report to Texas Wing. You may either use the CAPF 173-1 and on the last page show a zero at the top, a zero at the bottom, sign the report and mail to Texas Wing. Or, you may send a letter to my attention at Texas Wing Headquarters stating that you have had no monies during the fiscal year 1988-89. REMEMBER: I MUST HAVE A RESPONSE FROM EVERY GROUP AND SQUADRON IN TEXAS WING.

TEAM EFFORT RESCUES STRANDED FAMILY

Hereford, Texas--LTC David N. Clyde, Southwest Region Legal Officer, and LPT Jim McMorries, Hereford Composite Squadron Commander, teamed up today to rescue a family stranded when the husband and father suddenly died far from home while the family was on vacation.

The Danny Vermillion family of Hereford was on vacation in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, when he suddenly died. The family was traveling in a large van and towing a car. Neither of the children was old enough to drive and the wife and mother had not driven the van. This essentially left them far from home and, for all intents and purposes, stranded.

Upon learning of this situation, LTC Clyde volunteered to fly LT McMorries and two relief drivers to Baton Rouge to pick up the van and drive it back to Hereford. At the same time LTC Clyde flew the wife and children back to their home where there were friends and family waiting to assist the family.

Although not the usual CAP "rescue" story, this non-funded volunteer mission was a God-send to the Vermillion family, and exemplified the Civil Air Patrol spirit in its finest sense.

8 Jan. 1990

Dear Colonel Parker,

It is the time of year again that I began to compile information to write the 1989 annual Texas Wing History. I have written to several key wing staff officers to gather their input regarding their respective areas. (Copies attached)

I have requested from these staff people, that they return the requested information by 15 March, so I can then begin to write the narrative and compile the statistical data for the annual history. The completed history has to be turned in to the National Historian by 1 June of this year so we won't lose any CAP-MAP points. In early May, I will send you a review copy and a signature sheet, that you will need to sign and return to me for inclusion in the final submitted copy of the history.

I would also like to have an official portrait of you for inclusion in the history. I say "official", but a good 5x7 or 8x10 portrait in uniform would be OK. If you don't have one, don't worry about it. It would just be nice to have the CO's photo in the history.

Also, if you don't mind, and have the time, I could use any info you might like to send on how the wing has been going since you took command. I will interview Tom and get his input for the time frame he had the job during the year.

Last year, I got super response from the wing staff with the info I asked for. I don't know if Tom prodded them along on it or if everyone was really interested in getting the information into the annual history. (I hope it was the latter!) But, I hope I can still count on you and the staff for input, so maybe I can write a presentable annual history.

While I'm at it, I want to let you know that I am here to help you in any way possible in regards to historical documentation whenever you may need it. I don't think the wing historians job is just a slot where we stick old worn out colonels. Besides writing the annual wing history for its 50 CAP-MAP points, the wing historian is supposed to act as an advisor to the commander on any matter requiring historical input.

Colonel, I would like to thank you in advance for any and all assistance you or the other members of the wing staff can provide in writing the annual wing history.

Best regards,

6 Jan. 1990

Dear Joyce,

It is time once again to begin compiling the annual Texas Wing History for 1989. I would like to ask for input regarding recruiting in Texas Wing.

I need to know how many senior members were recruited during the year and how many cadets were recruited. What, if any state-wide recruiting drives were conducted? How did recruiting in 1989 compare with 1988?

Your comments and unbiased observations in regards to recruiting during 1989 are important. Please remember that we are writing a history and not a public relations piece. I need to know the good as well as the not-so-good. If we had problems in recruiting, I need to know about those and what we are planning to do to correct those problems.

I need this information back by 15 March, 1990. At that time I can start writing the narrative and compiling all of the statistical charts. If this deadline is too close for you to compile the information requested, let me know and we can make arrangements to give you more time. I must have this history submitted to the National Historian by 1 June of this year, or we lose CAP-MAP points.

Your input is appreciated and I am looking forward to hearing from you.

Best Regards,

6 Jan. 1990

Dear Carolyn,

It is time once again to begin compiling the annual Texas Wing History. I will need your input so we can cover the cadet program fully. Below are some questions I will need you to answer for me:

1. Total number of Cadets in the wing as of 31 December 1989.
2. Total number of Cadets in the wing as of 1 Jan. 1989.
3. Type B Encampments - how many, where, how many cadets?
4. Type A Encampment - how many cadets, dates, location, honor cadet?
5. Names of all cadets who recieved the Mitchell Award.
6. Names of all cadets who recieved the Earhart Award.
7. Names of all cadets who recieved the Spaatz Award.
8. Cadet of the year, and home unit.
9. Names of all cadets who went on IACE in 1989 from Texas.
10. What cadets, if any, came from other countries to visit Texas on IACE.

I also need to know about any other cadet special activities that were attended by Texas Wing cadets and any activities in the wing that were designed for cadets. Can you also furnish the names of those cadets who are members of the CAC, or were members during 1989?

Carolyn, I know this looks like a lot of work for you, but I really do like to give the Cadet Program a lot of space in the annual history. Please keep in mind too, that this is a history, and we need to mention not only the good things that have happened, but also address any problems that may have come up during the year. It is very important that I get some good, unbiased personel observations about the wing cadet program from you. If Texas Wing did have problems in this area during the past year, let me know what you have planned to correct those problems.

I will need this information from you by the 15th of March so I can start writting the narrative and statistics charts. The annual wing history has to be turned in to the National Historian by 1 June 1990. If you are going to be pressed for time in getting this information together, please let me know so I can make arrangements.

Your input is very vital to this project, and I want you to know that your efforts are appreciated.

Dear Jerry,

I am writting to you in regards to the 1989 Texas Wing Annual History. Could you please furnish me with the details of how Texas Wing rated on the 1989 CAP-MAP?

I am not too familiar with when or how those statistics are published, but if you do have some information for 1989, I would like to include it in the annual history. I have to submit the finished history to the National Historian by 1 June, so I'm asking all of the staff officers that need to submit information, to have it in to me by 15 March. That gives me time to write the narrative.

Whatever input you could contribute would be appreciated.

Dear Sharon,

It is time to begin compiling information for the 1989 annual Texas Wing History, and I need your input regarding Aerospace Education. Below, are a series of questions. Just answer what you can, the best you can.

1. Were any Aerospace Education workshops conducted in public schools by CAP in Texas during 1989?
2. How many Aerospace Ed. for S/M classes were conducted?
3. How many people completed these classes?

In addition, I would like to get your unbiased personal observations about the good and not-so-good points of the Aerospace Education program within Texas Wing. Remember, we are writing an annual unit history, not a public relations sheet, so we need to address any problem areas and tell about what is being done to correct any problems.

Sharon, your input is vital to the Aerospace Education chapter of the annual history, and I am looking forward to hearing from you. I do need to ask that you get this information back to me by 15 March so I can start writing the narrative and compiling the statistical charts. I have to have the finished history submitted to the National Historian by 1 June. If you do require more time to get the requested information, please let me know, and I can work around that.

2. Number of aircraft incidents?
3. Number of deaths in CAP related activities?
4. Number of injuries in CAP related activities?
5. Number of vehicle accidents?

Dear Kathye,

It is time once again to compile information for the annual Texas Wing History. I need your input regarding the public affairs program within the wing. I don't have any specific questions for you, but would like for you to just give me a brief overview of the effectiveness of the wing PA program. I need to know about the problems as well as the good points, and what is being planned to correct any problems.

A couple of questions do come to mind now that I think about it some. First of all; were any PAO classes held in the wing during 1989? How many units publish newsletters?

I need this information back by 15 March so I can begin to write the narrative and compile the statistical data. The finished history has to be submitted to the National Historian by 1 June 1990.

Dear Col. Scully,

It is time to compile information for the annual Texas Wing history. I need some information from you in regards to personnel on the wing level, and here are some questions:

1. How many personnel actions were completed by TX WG in 1989?
2. How many senior members were terminated with cause? (No names.)
3. How many senior members were de-moted with cause?

I would also like to ask for your unbiased personnel observations regarding operation of personnel in general within the wing. Dear Col. Bailey,

It is time once again to compile information for the annual Texas Wing History. I would like to ask you for some information and your input in regards to communications. Here are some specific questions:

1. How many new ROP cards were issued by the wing in 1989?
2. Can you furnish me with a current Eagle Nest roster?
3. How many fixxed base stations?
4. How many air mobil stations?
5. How many vehicle stations?

I would also like to get your unbiased observations on the communications situation in Texas Wing in general. This is a wing history and not a public affairs piece, so I need to know about any problems the wing has with communications, and what is planned to correct those. I need to know the "good stuff", too. Tell me about the people who do an exceptional job in communications. Did Texas Wing put on any communications schools last year? If so, where and how many attended?

I would like to ask you to get this information back to me by 15 March so I can start writting the narrative and put together the statistical data. The annual wing history has to be turned in to the National Historian by 1 June so we can get the maximum CAP-MAP points for it. If the deadline is going to cause some problem, please let me know, and I will try and work around it.

Dear Bill,

It is time once again to begin compiling the annual Texas Wing History for 1989. I would like to get your input regarding the activities of the wing during the past year with the Customs Service.

Are are a list of questions:

1. How many pilots and observers are customs qualified in the wing?
2. How many customs mission were flown?
3. How many man hours were devoted to customs work?
4. Were any drug seizures made as a direct result of CAP involvement during 1989?
5. How many customs training seminars were conducted and how many personnel were certified?

Your comments and unbiased observations on this subject are important to the writting of this wing history. We need to know about any problems and what is being done to correct them. This is a history and not a public affairs press release, so we need to know what worked well, and what did not.

CALLED 8 APRIL - MAT'L. ON ITS WAY!

Dear Kirby,

It is time once again to begin compiling the annual Texas Wing history of 1989. I will need your input so we can cover the ES part of that history. Last year, when Lt. Col. Scott was Director of Emergency Services, he sent me a copy of an annual report he had written for the Wing Commander. This type of report covered just about all of the questions I had regarding ES.

Here is a brief run-down of some of the information we will need:

1. Number of missions.
2. Number of non-distress ELT missions.
3. Number of distress ELT missions.
4. Number of actual missing aircraft missions.
5. Number of other missions.
6. Number of finds.
7. Number of saves.
8. Number of man-hours expended on actual missions.
9. Number of practice missions (dates and locations).
10. Number of SAR Tests (dates and locations).

In addition, I would welcome your commentary on any missions, real, practice or SAR Test. We need some figures as to numbers of member owned aircraft, CAP owned aircraft and vehicles used in ES work during 1989.

Kirby, your input is very important to have a good complete section on Emergency Services. I would also like to ask you to give me your comments regarding ES personnel performance. Please remember that this is a history, not a public relations sheet, so give me your unbiased personnel observations. If the Wing did it all superbly - let me know. If we had problems, I want to know that too, and what we are doing to correct any problems.

I will need this information from you by March 15th so I can start writting the narrative and compiling the statistical tables that will be in the finished history. I hope thia will give you enough time to get the requested information back to me. If this schedule cramps you for time, let me know and we can work out some way to give you more time. I have to submit the finished history to the National Historian by 1 June of this year. My being late will cost us CAP-MAP points.

Thanks for your help on this and I am looking forward to hearing from you.

Dear Chuck,

It is time once again to begin compiling the annual Texas Wing history of 1989. I would like to ask you to furnish me the same kind of information you did last year on Senior Programs. Here is a list of subjects we need to cover:

1. Number of Level One clinics.
2. Number of senior members who attended these Level One clinics.
3. Number of persons who attended Aerospace Ed. for S/M classes.
4. Number of people who recieved the Grover Loening Award.
5. Number of people who recieved the Garber Award.
6. Number of people who recieved the Gill Robb Wilson Award.
7. Corporate Learning Courses: dates, locations and number of people who attended.
8. Squadron Leadership School: Number of attendees, dates and locations.
9. How many from Texas Wing attended SW Region Staff College?
10. How many from Texas Wing attended National Staff College?

In addition, I would also like your input as to the general status of the Senior Member training program in Texas Wing. Do you see any areas that need improvement? If so, what is being planned to make those improvements? In short, I am asking for your unbiased personel observations. Any type of input is appreciated, and remember that we are writting an annual history which should show the good and the not-so-good, if there is any.
